

Binary Noggin

Communication and Trust

Improving teams and products

We believe in building the best software through an understanding of the “why” in the product. We find this “why” through constant communication and trust. We prioritize continuous delivery of working software that provides constant value and exceeds expectations.

“Binary Noggin brings a fresh and energetic approach to problem solving and team development...Working with Binary Noggin was an amazing experience and vital to our project’s overall success”

- Matt Ludwig, SmartRent

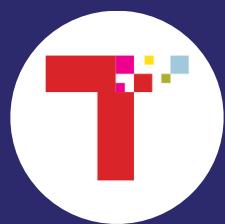

“Binary Noggin provided a tremendous return on our investment. Between the quality code and the hands-on coaching they provided to our team, the only way to describe Binary Noggin is top-notch. Always engaged and striving for excellence, they are a tide that raises all ships and an invaluable partner in Agile software development.”

- Cameron Kurth, Product Owner, Toyota Connected
